

WIN WIN FOR FOUR

The kolb fourfold stencil cleaning system AQUUBE® MV9 QUAD was a double award winner in November. It received the Global Technology Award, presented by the trade magazine Global SMT & Packaging and the Mexico EMS Technology Award of the Mexican industry publication Mexico EMS.

The reasons for the awards are obvious. AQUUBE® MV9 QUAD is the world's only batch system for the process-safe fine cleaning of four screens, stencils or PumpPrints in only one cleaning cycle. With its capacity, short cycle times and high efficiency in terms of operating costs, the system is perfectly suited when larger quantities of stencils need to be cleaned on a daily basis. AQUUBE® MV9 QUAD defines the upper end of kolb's stencil cleaner portfolio, which ranges from favourable entry-level machines to industry 4.0 capable high-end systems.

The Global Technology Award, presented in six categories, was won by kolb in the category „Cleaning Equipment“. The award was presented to kolb CEO Christian Ortman (left in image 1) by Global SMT & Packaging magazine on November 16 at the productronica trade show in Munich. The Mexico EMS Technology Award, also in the „Cleaning Equipment“ category, was received by kolb-US Managing Director Patty Chonis on Nov. 3 at the SMTA International Show in Minneapolis, USA. The annual award, given in 51 categories by an independent jury, honors the best innovations in the electronics manufacturing industry in the Mexican market over the past year.

This is where it gets personal

Carolin Kipke

Since October 1 Carolin Kipke is the new face in the Marketing and Sales Department, working as Marketing / Communications Manager. After training as an Advertising Specialist, she worked as a Senior Account Manager in various agencies, primarily on international automotive accounts (Toyota, Daihatsu, Ford of Europe). Prior to joining kolb, she worked for five years in the marketing department of an international market leader in (parking) ticket printing.

Leon Linker

Leon Linker has already been with the company since January 1, 2020. In addition to his Bachelor of Arts degree in „Sales & Management“ at the Fernhochschule Hamburg, he so far has worked in order processing, IT administration and purchasing. As of December 1, he will join the German sales team on a permanent basis, where he will be available in the office from Monday to Thursday until he completes his studies.

